PROPOSALS BY LITTLE & BROWN THE LIFE AND WORKS OF JOHN ADAMS,

THE LIFE AND WORKS OF JOHN ADAMS, Second President of the United States.

EDITED BY HIS GRANDSON, CHARLES PRANCIS ADAMS.

THE public will be glad to learn that the publication of the works of JOHN ADAMS, so long delayed, will now be commenced so soon as an adequate subscription shall have been obtained. It is intended to embrace in the proposed collection the works of Mr. Adams on Government, already published, but now out of print, and a selection from a most voluminous mass of manuscripts which have never seen the light.

The collection is to be made and edited by the mover seen the light.

The collection is to be made and edited by the Hon. Charles Francis Adams, the depositary of all the manuscripts as well of John Adams as of his father the late John Quincy Adams, and is intended as the first by two great publications, elucidating the history of the rise and progress of these United States, from the year 1761, in which the revolutionary struggle first began, down to the year 1848, when the younger Adams died.

The materials for the first of the two works are much more ample than has generally been sup-when the younger Adams died.

The materials for the first of the two works are mach more ample than has generally been supposed. John Adams, during nearly all his life, acrupulously preserved his papers, and among them are found many of a curious and singularly interesting character. Probably the most remark able, at least in the cycs of the world, will prove to be a Diary, commenced by him as early as 1755, and carried on for thirty years, including the largest portion of his public career. This Diary will be found to contain a great amount of valuable matter connected with the early movements of the Revolution in Massachusetts, and to throw a good deal of new light upon the proceedings of the great Congresses of 1774, 1775, and 1776, at Philadelphia, which the writer was a conspicuous actor. There are also notes of the debates during a portion of them, will be highly valuable to posterity.

It is well known that an intention was long entertained by the younger Mr. Adams to write a memoir of his father. This, although not entirely executed, was commenced. A most interesting fragment remains in a perfect state, and will be prefixed to the present publication. The unexecuted portion will be carried on by the editor, aided by the discovery of an autobiographical fragment of his work.

of John Adams himself, which will be woven into the body of his work.

The great difficulty will be in the abundance of the materials to be gathered out of a correspondence carried on for a half a century, as well as out of unpublished treatises of various kinds, rather to bring them all within reasonable limits for purchasers, than to come short of what will interest the students of the national history.

It is proposed to issue the work in ten octave volumes. These will include the Essay on the Canonand Feudal Laws, the Defence of the American Constitution, the various editions of which have been long since exhausted, and the Diacourses on Davila; to all of which illustrations, drawn from the unpublished writings of Mr. Adams, or supplied by the editor from other sources, will be added. Such selections will be made from the Diary, and from the private papers, as may be considered most likely to promote a better acquaintance with the times in which Mr. Adams lived and acted than is times in which Mr. Adams lived and acted than is yet possessed, even after all the valuable contributions which have already been furnished from other quarters. On the whole, the publishers confidently believe that there is no work relating to the revolutionary history of the United States, and indeed of the times in which Mr. Adams lived, that indeed of the times in which Mr. Adams lived, that surpasses in historical and political value the volumes now offered to the patronage of the American people. And they strongly hope that they shall find themselves so well sustained in this great enterprise as to be encouraged to go on and perfect the other and latter part of it, the Life and Works of the no less distinguished son, John Quincy Adams. The works will be brought out from time to time, commencing during the autumn of 1849, and completed within a reasonable period, consistently with proper attention to the high character designed to be given to them, and in the following order:

1. Works upon Government.

2. Political papers, including Controversial Publications of the Revolution.

ssages and Public Papers.

Messages and Public Papers.
 Diary.
 Private Letters on Public Subjects, 1774 to 1801.
 Private Letters from 1756 to 1826.
 Life, by John Quincy Adams, continued by the editor.
 Original unpublished Letters of Franklin, Jay, Jefferson, the Lees, Laurens, Gerry, Dana, Izard, and other eminent patriots of the Resolution.

Dana, Izard, and other eminent patriots of the Revolution.

The work will be beautifully printed, in ten volumes, in the octavo form, each volume containing from 500 to 600 pages, and put up in cloth, at the price of $2 25 a volume.

A limited number of copies will be struck off on large paper, and put up in the same style of binding, price $3 a volume.

Subscriptions and orders are respectfully solicited by the proprietors.

The publishers respectively following eminent testimony to the excellence of this standard dictionary.

The execution of this Dictionary fully answers to its title. The Vocasulary is probably more comprehensive than that of all preceding English Dictionaries united. Constant reference is made to the constant reference is made to the constant reference in the constant reference is made to the constant reference in the constant reference is made to the constant reference in the constant reference is the constant reference in the constant reference is made to the constant reference in the constant reference in the constant reference is the constant reference in the constant reference is the constant reference in the constant reference in the constant reference is the constant reference in the constant reference in the constant reference is the constant reference in t comprehensive than that of all preceding English Dictionaries united. Constant reference is made to AUTHORITIES with respect to words newly introduced, and care is taken to note such as are technical, foreign, obsolete, provincial, or vulgar. The optivitions are clear and exact, and those pertaining to technical and scientific terms are specially valuable to the general reader. The author has evidently bestowed great labor on PRONUNCIATION. His system of Notation, which is easily understood, and founded on a more complete analysis of the vowel sounds than we have elsewhere met with, together with his plan of exhibiting all the best English authorities in relation to words differ ently pronounced by different orthoepists, gives to this work important advantages as a Pronouncing Dictionary. In ORTHOGRAPHY he has made no arbitrary changes, but where usage is various and fluctuating, he has aimed to be consistent, and to reduce to the same rules words of similar formation. The insertion of Grammatical forms and in flections of words to a much greater extent than they are given in other English Dictionaries, and the short critical notes on the orthography, the pronunciation, the grammatical form and construction, and the peculiar, technical, local, and American uses of words interspersed through the volume, give to this work much additional value. The cc pious Vocabulary of Modern Geographical names, with their pronuncistion, and a greatly enlarged and improved edition of Walker's Key to the propious Vocabulary of Modern Geographical names, with their pronunciation, and a greatly enlarged and improved edition of Walker's Key to the pronunciation of Classical and Scripture proper names, are important appendages to the Dictionary Eighteen months have passed since this Dictionary was published; and its already extensive use, both among cultivated English readers, and men of wide learning, affords good testimony of its merits. We confidently recommend it as containing an ample and careful view of the present state of our language. JARED SPARKS, LL. D.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 23d, 1850.

SEPARATE PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHing the stationery and for executing the printing of this department during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1851, will be received until 3 o'clock, p. m., on the 24th day of June next. Those unaccompanied by satisfactory testimonials of ability to fulfil a contract will not be considered.

All the articles of stationery must be of the very best quality—samples of the principal articles of which, such as paper, quills, metallic pens, lead pencils, knives, ink, &c., must accompany the bids, put up in classes as per schedule; and the department reserves the right to retain such samples, and pay for the same at the prices stated in the offer, or to return them, at its option. No bid will be considered where the articles accompanying it are not of the kind and quality required for the department; and spurious or imitation articles will subject the class to which they belong, or the entire bid, to rejection, at the pleasure of the department.

Each proposal must be signed by the individual or firm making it, and must specify a price, and but one price, for each and every article contained in the schedule. Should any articles be required not enumerated, they are to be furnished at the lowest market prices, according to quality. Blank forms for proposals will be furnished at the department to persons applying for them; and as without uniformity therein the department would find it difficult to make a decision, none will be taken into consideration unless substantially agreeing therewith.

The printing must be executed with uired.

The department reserves to itself the right of or-lering a greater or less quantity of each and every rticle contracted for, as the public service may require.

Bonds, with approved security, to be given by the person or persons contracting; and in case of a failure to supply the articles or to perform the work, the contractor and his sureties shall be liable for the forfeiture specified in such bond, as liquidated damages
The subjoined lists specify, as nearly as now can be done, the amount, quality, and description of each of the kinds of articles and work that will be wanted.

The bid should be sent under seal, addressed to the First Assistant Postmaster General, with "Mail Proposals in [name the State and Territory"] written on the face of the letter; and should be despatched in time to be received by or before the lat day of July next, at 10 o'clock, a. m. It should be guarantied, and the sufficiency of the guarantors should be duly certified.

A bidder may offer, where the transportation called for in the advertisement is difficult or impracticable at certain seasons, to substitute an inferior mode of conveyance, or to intermit service a specified number of days, weeks, or months. He may propose to omit an office that is inaccessible, or is not on the stage road, the railway, or at a steamboat landing, as the case may be; or he may offer to substitute an inferior mode of supply in such cases. He may propose different days and hours of departure and arrival, provided no more running time is asked, and it is obvious that no mail connexion or other public accommodation is prejudiced. He may ask for more running time to the trip, during a specified number of days, at cer tain seasons of peculiarly bad roads; but beyond these changes a proposal for service different from the advertisement will prevent its being considered in competition with a regular bid not set aside for extravagance; and where a bid contains any of the above alterations their disadvantages will be estimated in comparing it with other proposals.

"Mr. Greenleaf's part in the work is not merely well, it is admirably, done. His notes are full of learning, carefully considered, and of most commendable brevity. He has had no ambition to magnify his office. He has not encumbered his pages with a showy display of cheap learning, nor imposed upon the profession the necessity of purchasing a mass of speculative discussion, of no practical utility. . . . . The whole work, edited throughout as the first two volumes have been, will be one of the most valuable gifts ever bestowed upon the legal profession, and will add essentially to Mr. Greenleaf's already extended reputation."—North American Review.

THE WILD CHERRY AND SARSAPARILLA, which, on the basis of this preparation, have long been celebrated in Consumption and Scrofula, Diseases of the skin, Coughs, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Asthma, &c. Though this remedy has been but a short time before the public, yet it has gained perhaps more character and reputation as a curative in those diseases than any remedy of the day. The Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, (the Right Rev. W. R. Whittingham,) authorized us to say he has used it in his own person with decided benefit—Dr. S. Harper, of Kent Island, has written to us, he has used it with great success in his practice [see his letter in the pamphlet.] And in a letter from a lady on the Eastern Shore of this State, she says: "I had a letter from Miss E—on Tuesday; she says mother has requested her to say, Isabel derived almost instantaneous relief from DR. TONIC.

A certain cure for Ague, Feeer and Dyspepsia.—In our summer and fall months many sections of our country are prostrated by BILLOUS FEVER, and AGUE and FEVER. It has been our particular of the section of this country are prostrated by any same ramedy to ston this WHEATON'S REPORTS, S. Court U. States, 12 country are prostrated by BILIOUS FEVER, and AGUE and FEVER. It has been our particular study to find out some remedy to stop this dreadful scourge, and think in this TONIC we have effected this great object. It is also, we think, the very best remedy in Dyspepsia, and, if our directions are followed, will not fail to effect a cure. In a letter dated May 23, 1849, our Agent, Mr. Elias Raub, of Wrightaville, York county, Penn., says: I have never known any remedy for Fever and Ague equal to your INVALUABLE NATION. AL TONIC. It has given universal satisfaction, and has cured cases of Ague of years' standing, and after the failure of all other medicines made use of. Mr. Henry Beverson, of the same place, says in his certificate dated 22d March, 1849: "I applied to a number of physicians, and also used a variety of the most popular Ague Mixtures at different times, but all without the desired effect, no permanent cure having been effected. I was at length induced, at the recommendation of your worthy agent at this piace, to try a bottle of your NATIONAL TONIC, and to my great satisfaction, before I had used half of it, I left completely cured, though I continued the use of it till I had taken two bottles." In a joint certificate from Messrs. Miles Kaho, William Blackson, and James D. Brown, of the same place, they say: "Having tried nearly all the remedies within our reach without success, we at last purchased some of your NATIONAL TON. IC, which has completely cured us. We cheerfully recommend it to the notice of all persons afflicted with that terrible disease as the sest remedy yet discovered."
